"Mullerie is excellence personified; her exceptional eye for detail and construction management provides for a beautiful synergy of art and science.

She became my trusted single point of contact for developing a complex agro processing facility. This was due to her magnificent interpersonal skills and exceptionally high EQ, managing an extreme array of personalities.

Her approach to design was flexible, and she worked tirelessly with the project team as they made significant changes in the construction and design process. Her commitment and attention to detail allowed seamless integration of the construction process.

Mullerie and her team are an absolute pleasure to work with – professional, constructive, creative, solutions-oriented, hard working and effective. I give her my highest recommendation."
